

Reflections Report

MARTA 50th AGM

May 26, 2026

To date, two editions of Reflections have been published for the 2025-26 school year, with the Spring Edition coming out soon. All articles for the Spring edition were to be sent to the editors by April 10. The Miramichi region was or will be represented in all three publications. The Fall edition was late arriving due to a problem with the printer. A new printer has been hired and was the publisher of the Winter edition.

A thank you goes out to Arlene Waugh for her piece reminiscing on her first year of retirement, which appeared in the Fall edition, as well as to Charlotte Casey, who shared her first bird watching experience with guides Peter and Dana Gadd, in the Winter edition. Mark Donovan's wilderness experience in the Yukon with his son, Casey, a pharmacist in Whitehorse, who also moonlights as a wilderness guide for Yukon Tourism, will appear in the Spring edition.

I would like to extend a sincere personal thank you to Charlotte Casey and Andrew Clark for their support in helping me with information on and photos of events that I was unable to attend.

Respectfully submitted,

Bill Buggie, MARTA Reflections Branch Correspondent
